Commenting on the 2006 results, Sergey Pridantsev, CEO, CenterTelecom, said, "CenterTelecom today is a successful and profitable company. During the year we fulfilled the decisions of the Board of Directors and concentrated our efforts on key activities - development and realization of the financial strategy, optimization of the corporate governance system and active promotion of DOMOLINK project, participation in the priority national projects and liquidation of digital inequality in the Central Federal District. Today we can say that altogether, the increased number of ADSL users to 115,000 during the year, more than 13% decrease in personnel, decreased external debt by more than RUR3 billion, together with a significant debt restructuring and an overall decrease - all this justifies a positive financial result. I believe that the new managing team which joined the company in the first half of 2006 has fulfilled all tasks set by the company's shareholders."
